In particular, if it is necessary or prudent for fire extinguishers or any fire fighting apparatus to be available at the site of the Equipment, the Hirer shall ensure their presence although they may obtain them from the Owner. Once the Owner has carried out the installation of these items, they are not to be removed during the entire duration of the rental period.

The amount of such deposit shall be set off by the Owner against the final payments in respect of the Equipment becoming due from the Hirer under the Hire Contract. This will be held until the satisfactory termination of the hire and return of the Equipment to the Owner.
